

To the KING.

S I R,

Humbly offer to Your Sacred MAJESTIES Acceptance the following INDEX VILLARIS, and therein, an Account of the most Considerable of Your Houses, Castles, Forts, &c. and the Cities, Market-Towns, Parishes, Villages, and Private Seats, inhabited by Your SUBJECTS: And if the Novelty will Ballance the Errors thereof, so as to have Room in Your MAJESTIES LIBRARY with Books of more Use, I have my Desire.

I intend within the space of Five Years (by God's Assistance) not onely to make this Piece Correct, But (with Your MAJESTIES leave) to Present to Your View, a Compleat MAP of ENGLAND and WALES, Projected upon an Actual Survey, in a more Accurate manner than hath ever hitherto been Attempted by any GEOGRAPHER whatsoever, and therein I will employ the utmost Care and Industry of

(May it please Your Most Sacred MAJESTY)

Your MAJESTIES

most Loyal Subject,

J. Adams.

TO MY SUBSCRIBERS.

My LORDS, and GENTLEMEN.

Being sensible of many Faults in the following INDEX, I think it my Duty, besides the Excuse offer'd in the PREFACE, to Propose by way of Satisfaction :

1. As to You (my LORDS) I humbly present the last Sheet in this Book as a perfect LIST of your LORDSHIPS and your HOUSES, in collecting whereof, I have had the Honor to Receive particular Directions of all your LORDSHIPS now in Town, and have inform'd my self of the Rest who are Absent by their near Relations, Stewards or other Agents, so that every thing therein Printed (even the Orthography) will be vouched by Credible Authority : and I will onely Add, that whereas some few Houses of considerable Note are omitted, and others, decayed or quite demolished, Inserted, I have therein followed the Express Orders of the PEERS concern'd.

2. As to the Rest of my Subscribers, I do promise faithfully that I will be very carefull in making a true Alphabetical Table of all the Gentry in ENGLAND and WALES with their Principal Seats by the 25th. day of March, 1681 ; and intending to forbear the Printing thereof until the 12th. day of February next, and then to make use of three Presses for dispatch ; I will in the mean time use all my Endeavors to make the same perfect, and will gladly receive such Information, as may concern your Selves or any of your Acquaintance.

3. But it being impossible in a short time to Correct all the Errors of my INDEX VILLARIS for the Reasons given in the following Preface, I refer you for further Satisfaction to the PROPOSAL therein, which particularly relates to my Subscribers for this Book, which I hope will be Readily accepted from

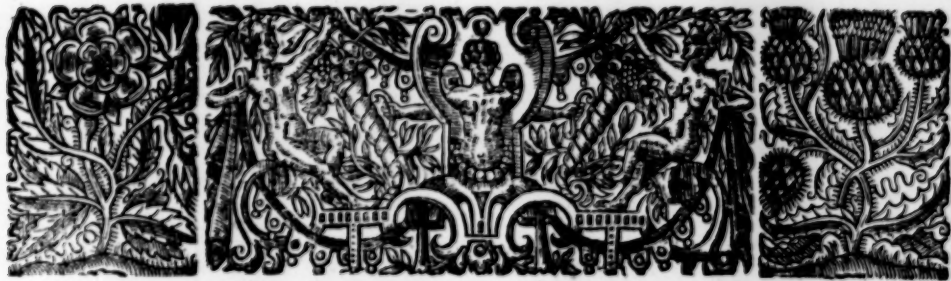

(My LORDS and GENTLEMEN)

Your most obliged

THE PREFACE.

TIS now about eight years since I was at Mr. Lloyd's of Llanvorda, in Shropshire, who then Designing a Fishery on the Coast of WALES, I endeavor'd to compute what Sale he might probably make in the Neighboring Markets, by Projecting a Specimen, wherein, making Aberdovey, a Village on the Coast of Merioneth-shire, the first Landing-place, I set down all the Markets within an hundred Miles, and entred the Distances between them in Figures: and shortly after, coming to LONDON, I made a Draught of all ENGLAND and WALES in like manner, which being seen and approved by several knowing and judicious Persons, I engraved the same upon Copper Plates, and finished a large MAP of ENGLAND, in Trinity-Term, 1677. with computed and measured Miles entred in Figures.

Which being published, it was objected, that the Rivers were wanting: And although they were designedly omitted, because, being laid down in their true Course, the strait Lines representing Roads would cross them in several places where the Bridges were not: yet, being persuaded by the Right Honorable the Lord Brouncker and Sir Jonas More, that the Addition of Rivers would Advance the Sale, I did engrave the same and sold a considerable number of them in several Countries, but more especially in Shropshire, Cheshire, and in the Cities of London and Westminster.

When the Rivers were Added, it was further objected, that the said Map did want the Villages: But because it is impossible to Add them in the Body of the Map, I have printed the Index Villaris following, and the Columns of Latitude and Longitude therein, being fitted to the Parallels and Meridians in the said Map, will in great measure supply that Want: however I do confess that it is very full of Errors and Defects; and therefore think my self obliged, by way of excuse, to give the following Account of the whole Process of this Work.

I have used all possible Care, Industry, and Pains, in comparing the VILLARE ANGlicum of Sir Henry Spelman, and the printed Tables of Speed's Maps, with the Maps themselves, aswell as those of Saxton and others, and regulating the whole by an Abstract taken from the Books of the Hearth Office, and other private Accompts returned me from several Counties. But the Imperfections and ill Position of those Maps, in respect of the Bearings of the Compass, and the want of sufficient Information for the Placing in their true Latitude and Longitude such Additional Villages and Private Seats, as the said Hearth Books, and other private Accompts, furnished me with, has rendred this Work so imperfect that nothing but an ACTUAL SURVEY of all ENGLAND and WALES can compleat the same; which, by God's Assistance, I will accomplish by the 25th. of March, 1685.

Upon the Publishing of the fore-mentioned Map, I first intended such Survey: But, Mr. Ogilby in his life time having designed the same thing, I have long expected what his Successor, Mr. Morgan, would doe, I have also staid some time to see what Dispatch Mr. Seller and his Partners will make, and am satisfied that they proceed so slowly therein; that I think I may, without Vanity, promise my Country-men, a much more Accurate Survey of all ENGLAND and WALES at least Ten years sooner then either of them: The former (as I am credibly inform'd) not having Survey'd above a Tenth part of the Kingdom in Six years, and the others not above a Twelfth part in Two years, though they proposed to finish the whole by Michaelmas next, 1681.

And

THE PREFACE.

And I am induced to undertake this Work;

- I. Because the County-Maps made by Saxton and Norden are the Originals whence Mr. Cambden and Mr. Speed Copied their Maps, and, being designed upon Surveys made above an hundred years since, and, the Variation of the Compals then not well known or observed, most of the Bearings therein are about 11. Degrees, and sometimes more or less different from the true Bearing.
- II. The Space of One hundred years, and the late Civil War hath much altered the face of the Kingdom; many Castles and Ancient Seats have been demolished, and several considerable Houses since erected, Market Towns difused, and others new made, and about 20000 Villages and Private Seats omitted.

Whereby it will appear that, if Mr. Pitt of London Bookfeller (who hath undertaken the printing of a new Atlas) shall make use of Fansonius Plates in his Volume of England, the same will be little valued, for that the County-Maps of Fansonius are Copies taken from the said Mr. Saxton, Mr. Norden, Mr. Cambden, or Mr. Speed, and much more erroneous then the Originals.

And, Resolving to new Print this Book assoon as the said Survey shall be completed, I make this OFFER to the Lords and Gentlemen who have honored me with their Subscriptions for the same, viz.

Whoever will be pleased to Subscribe for any one County-Map, shall, besides the said Map, have one Copy of the new Impression of this Book gratis.

ADVERTISEMENT.

I have omitted one Symbol in the following Explanation, which in the INDEX is placed eight several ways, viz. ○ = ○ || ○ ○ ○ ○ ○ wherein the parallel Lines, thus expressed, do signifie the Bearing to LONDON, East, West, North, South, North-west, North-east, South-west, or South east; and the Cypher represents the Town named in the INDEX.
